JIN Data Exchange (JINDEX)

I completed an Acquisition Plan for the JINDEX hardware and software and submitted it to DIS for approval. I also received comments on the Baseline Requirements Document, which were incorporated into the final version. Acquisition and installation are scheduled for completion by the end of the month.

We also had some discussion about what to do with the hundreds of ACCESS queries that will not be provided through the first version of CACH. We are close to agreeing that these will be available through JINDEX, but in their current form, and that future versions will create services based on these queries in accordance with user demand and available funds.

Summary Offender Profile (SOP)

The connectivity problems with AOC continue. Ugh.

Electronic Citations

The House Rules Committee made HB 1650 eligible for a second reading, which puts it one step away from floor action. I asked Representative Lovick if he would be willing to offer a floor amendment reconciling the language with its companion bill, SB 5627, and he referred me to Representative O'Brien, the prime sponsor of the House version. The House Rules Committee next meets on Monday afternoon.

I met today with representatives of LESA and Pierce County District Court to discuss the project to create the infrastructure for the exchange of citations. The court agreed to assist with the effort and I am hoping to issue a Request for Proposals (RFP) by the end of the month. I met yesterday with a member of DIS Contracts and Legal Affairs Department, and the RFP is almost in final form.

Miscellaneous

► I submitted an application on behalf of the JIN Program Office in response to this year's solicitation for projects seeking funding under the Federal Byrne and NCHIP grants. My proposal, which envisions continued collaboration with King and Yakima Counties and LESA, is for adding services to the JINDEX, including additional ACCESS queries and DOL data, and for the creation of an XML-enabled version of LESA's Incident Report.

I have not received notice from OFM regarding the other applicants, although I am aware that King County has submitted a proposal for a warrants look-up service through JINDEX. OFM has also declined my request that it submit a proposed budget for administrative costs as part of the review process.

The Technical Advisory Group will review the proposals on March 15 and pass recommendations on to the Board for review at the subsequent meeting.
